

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

FROM

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

OFFICE OF FACTORY INSPECTORS,

PROVIDENCE, R. I., January 1, 1901.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY WILLIAM GREGORY,

Governor State of Rhode Island.

GOVERNOR:—In accordance with the provisions of Chapter 68 of the General Laws, we have the honor to submit to you, and through you to the General Assembly, this the seventh annual report of the Factory Inspectors of this State, covering the inspection of factories, workshops, and mercantile establishments during the year ending December 31, 1900.

Respectfully submitted,

J. ELLERY HUDSON,

HELEN M. JENKS,

Factory Inspectors.

REPORT.

The State Factory Inspectors respectfully present their seventh annual report as follows :

We have, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 68 of the General Laws, inspected five hundred and ninety-five (595) establishments during the year ending December 31, 1900. This is an increase of forty-six (46) over the number visited in 1899. The new establishments are pretty evenly distributed among the varied industries in the State.

The number employed in the various establishments coming under the factory inspection laws was found to be as follows :

Males of sixteen years of age and over.....	44,337
Females of sixteen years of age and over.....	32,215
	<hr/>
Whole number of adults.....	76,552
Males under sixteen years of age.....	2,844
Females under sixteen years of ages.....	2,409
	<hr/>
Whole number of children.....	5,253
Total number employed.....	81,805

A comparison of the foregoing figures with those reported last year shows an increase of two thousand five hundred and two (2,502) in the number of men employed ; an increase of one thousand seven hundred and fifty-four (1,754) in the number of women employed ; an increase of two hundred and eighty-nine (289) in the number of boys employed ; and an increase of two hundred and ninety-eight (298) in the number of girls employed; a total increase of four thousand eight hundred and forty-three (4,843).

Of this increase in the number of employees, two thousand seven hundred and seventy-nine (2,779) adults and two hundred and seventy-three (273) children were found in the new places visited, and one thousand four hundred and seventy-seven (1,477) adults and three hundred and fourteen (314) children comprise the increase in the number employed this year in the establishments included in last year's report.

By the foregoing it will be noticed that there has been an increase of 587 in the number of children employed in our State. The first thought is, naturally, that this increase is to be looked for in the cotton and woolen mills which give employment to a large proportion of our laboring people, and in which 70 per cent. of all the children employed are to be found at work. But a careful examination of the statistics which form a large portion of this report reveals the fact that the greater part of this increase in child labor is to be found in industries other than cotton or woolen. In 1899 the combined cotton and woolen industries of the State gave employment to 3,533 children or 75.7 per cent. of all the children employed. This year those industries employed 3,689 children, or 70.2 per cent. of the whole number under 16 years of age. This is an increase of 154 in the actual number employed, but a decrease of 5.5 per cent. in the relative number.

In 1899, the industries other than cotton or woolen gave employment to 1,133 children, or 24.3 per cent. of the whole number under 16 years of age. This year the same class of industries employed 1,566 children, or 29.8 per cent. of all; an actual increase over the year 1899 of 433 and a proportionate increase of 5.5 per cent.

The following table shows the number of adults and children employed in the State, by counties, cities, and towns:

THE STATE, COUNTIES, CITIES, AND TOWNS.	Number of Adults.	Number of Children.	Total Number.	Percentage of Children.

Bristol.....	1,597	75	1,672	4.5
Warren.....	1,108	101	1,209	8.4
Kent County	6,685	734	7,419	9.9
Coventry.....	1,233	161	1,394	11.5
East Greenwich.....	210	24	234	10.4
Warwick.....	5,222	549	5,771	9.5
West Greenwich.....	20	20
Newport County	750	71	821	8.6
Newport.....	338	13	351	3.7
Tiverton.....	412	58	470	12.0
Washington County	2,800	124	2,924	4.2

Richmond.....	398	26	419	6.2
South Kingstown.....	618	28	646	4.3
Westerly.....	772	29	801	3.6

As will be seen by the foregoing table, the increase in the number of children employed during the past year was mainly in the cities of Providence, Pawtucket, and Woonsocket, the increase in those cities being 256, 277, and 124, respectively. A very large proportion of the increase in Woonsocket is due to the addition of two industries, viz.: the Lawton Spinning Co., employing 53 children, and the Lafayette Worsted Co., with 41 children. Both are finely appointed mills, with excellent sanitary arrangements. In Pawtucket nearly one-half of the increase in child labor was in the factory of the Hope Webbing Co., one of the brightest and best appointed places in the State where employment is given to children. In Providence the increase is more evenly divided among the several industries. In twelve of the towns, viz.: Cumberland, East Providence, Johnston, North Providence, North Smithfield, Bristol, Coventry, Warwick, Tiverton, Hopkinton, South Kingstown, and Westerly, there has been a decrease in the number of children employed. By counties the increase has been: Providence, 675; Newport, 1; total, 676. The decrease for the remaining counties has been: Bristol, 5; Kent, 62; Washington, 22; total, 89. Net increase, 587. In 1899, of all the employees in the various manufacturing and mercantile establishments in the State coming under the provisions of the factory inspection law, 6 per cent. were children. This year the number of children at work comprises 6.4 per cent. of the total number employed.

In our annual reports for 1898 and 1899 we recommended the enactment of an amendment to our present law, embodying the requirement that—"No person, firm, or corporation who shall be deemed a factory, manufacturing, or mercantile establishment within the meaning of the law, shall employ any child under fifteen years of age while the public schools of the town or city where such child resides are in session, unless furnished with a certificate from the school authorities of such town or city that such child can read and write the English language." We still believe that the necessity for such an amendment exists. Probably the foregoing may, by some, be thought to be too radical in its requirements, and possibly it may be; but some means should be devised to secure, as far as possible to all of our children, the rudiments of an education. At the least they should be required to have the ability to read and write their native language before they are permitted to enter our factories and workshops as employees, and the extent of such ability should be determined by a certificate from the school authorities, attesting the fact that the children seeking employment have passed some specified grade of instruction. Such a requirement would, we believe, be productive of more good than could be expected to result from the simple extension of the age limit.

We offer the foregoing suggestions as a basis for consideration and feel confident that, if the combined wisdom of our legislators and of the members of the State Board of Education could be brought to bear upon the subject, the result would be a beneficial enactment.

The following table shows the material growth of the work of this department since the enactment of the factory inspection law in 1894, and will also give some idea of the increased business activity in our State for the past few years :

YEAR.	Number of places visited.	Number of Adults employed.	Children employed.	Total employed.	Percentage of children.
1894.....	294	55,109	5,217	60,326	8.5
1895.....	298	53,523	4,473	57,996	7.7
1896.....	379	50,068	4,065	54,133	7.5
1897.....	355	56,072	4,786	60,858	7.9
1898.....	433	63,259	4,539	67,798	6.5
1899.....	549	72,296	4,666	76,962	6.0
1900.....	595	76,552	5,253	81,805	6.4

By the foregoing it will be seen that in the number of places affected by the provisions of the factory inspection law there has been an increase of 301, or 102 per cent.; and an increase in the number of employees of 21,479. From 1894 to 1896 there was a decrease of 6,193. Since 1896 there has been an increase in the number employed of 27,672.

It is gratifying to be able to report a still further decrease in the number of accidents. The whole number reported during the year was 79, a decrease of 18. Four of the accidents were fatal.

Our relations with the employers of the State have been very pleasant, and we have found them always ready to do anything in their power for the safety and comfort of their employees.

Respectfully submitted,

J. ELLERY HUDSON,

HELEN M. JENKS,

Factory Inspectors.
